

Abstract

Graduate qualification work

Direction of preparation:

47.04.01 – “Philosophy”

Profile: Management Philosophy and Decision Making Methodology in the Field of Creative Industries

Theme of graduate qualification work: The relationship of philosophy and management: the example of management in modern China

Author of graduate qualification work: Runova Anastasiia Germanovna

Supervisor of graduate qualification work: Candidate of Philosophical science, Senior lecturer/Associate professor of the Department of Historical and Socio-Philosophical Disciplines, Oriental Studies and Theology D.N. Sukhovskaya.

Educational institution: Federal State Budgetary Educational Institution of Higher Education “Pyatigorsk State University”.

The relevance of the study lies in examining the relationship between philosophy and social management on the example of the development of Chinese society, which determines its further existence, analysis of the impact on the formation of the country's social system and interaction with other spheres of life. In addition, the relevance of the work is associated with the tendency of the formation of society under the influence of various management principles.

The research objectives included:

- to define scientific and practical tasks of philosophy in management;
- to characterize a person as the main pivot of philosophy and management;
- to give a general description of society as an object and subject of management philosophy;
- determine the essential characteristics and parameters of the management philosophy;
- analysis of the model of social management in China;

– analysis of the philosophy of management of modern China and the prospects for its development.

The theoretical and practical significance lies in the idea of application in practical seminars on philosophy of management, for the general development of theoretical and practical works on social philosophy, philosophy of management and philosophy of China. The research results can also be used to carry out research work of graduate students, students and other researchers as a scientific resource.

The results of the research can be used in the development of a strategy for the development of the management system of society or individual organizations on the example of the studied areas of philosophy of management.