

The resume of the bachelor work «Realization of intercultural training in different conditions of international interaction»
by the degree seeker Anastasia Dubikovska

The qualification work is devoted to the research of problems of planning and realization of intercultural training. The author pays attention to the characteristics of modern development of international interaction.

The work is divided into the introduction, two chapters, the conclusion and the bibliography.

The introduction includes the main concepts of the research.

The first chapter deals with the research of the special characteristics and perspectives of the process of realization of intercultural training. The author pays attention to the intercultural training as the way of solving of different divergences.

The second chapter deals with the realization of intercultural trainings. The author analyzes the principles of realization of such trainings, shows different stages of its realization.

The conclusion resumes all the main concepts of the research.

The bibliography consists of 34 sources.