

SUMMARY FINAL QUALIFYING WORK

Subject matter of the final qualifying work: Organization of activities of children and adolescents during leisure activities.

Author of FQW: Martynovskaya Anastasia Alekseevna

Scientific adviser of FQW: associate Professor of creative-innovative management and law May-Boroda G. N.

The relevance of the research problem is the need to study the socio-cultural space of children's and adolescent leisure, since it occupies a leading niche in the implementation of the recreational function of the younger generation.

Objective of the study: consists in summarizing the theoretical and practical foundations of organizing leisure activities for children and adolescents and developing recommendations for its improvement.

Tasks:

1. To consider all the main approaches to the implementation of leisure activities of modern children and adolescents;
2. Consider modern children and adolescents as an object of leisure activity and study the trends of its development;
3. To analyze the experience of various institutions aimed at the implementation of children's and teenage leisure, to identify features;
4. To analyze the implementation of leisure activities of the Artek International Children's Center in the direction of organizing the socio-cultural space of children and teenagers;
5. Create and test the project and recommendations for organizing effective and modern leisure activities of children and adolescents at the Artek International Children's Center.

The theoretical significance It consists in the obtained results of the study, expanding scientific ideas about leisure activities, children and adolescents as an object of leisure activity, as well as the features of children's and teenage leisure.

Practical significance lies in the possibility of using the results of the study during lectures and seminars in the direction of preparation "Socio-cultural activity". Recommendations on improving the sociocultural space of children and teenagers and developing a project for the development of activities in the framework of the implementation of children and teenagers are offered.

Results of a research: Based on the work carried out, it can be noted that adolescent and children's leisure is considered an important aspect of a developing society as a whole. Leisure activities play a dominant role in the life of each individual, as it allows you to meet the needs, desires and need for creative development.

Recommendations:

In the process of research conducted by the federal state budgetary educational institution of the Artek International Children's Center, methodological recommendations were proposed to improve the organization of leisure activities for children and adolescents.

Considering the proposed recommendations, the activities of the Artek MDC in this area will become interactive, more developed, and will also satisfy the needs of modern children and adolescents. Developed improvements in the field of children's and teenage leisure activities can be implemented in other recreational socio-cultural institutions.