

Summary

Subject matter: Socio-cultural tools of formation of social competence in modern Russian youth

Author: Vilyeva Marina Valerievna

Supervisor of studies: Krasilnikov A.Y., Candidate of Pedagogic Sciences, assistant professor of creative - Innovative Management and Law.

Customer organization: Municipal Budget Institution of Pyatigorsk Administration “Centre of the realization of the youth projects and programmes”.

Topicality of the research: A socio-cultural tools of formation of social competence in modern Russian youth of the youth is one of the most acute problems in the current situation. A lot of attention is paid to this problem from the point of view of socio-cultural. Besides, it can be mentioned, that different aspects of managing the process of socio-cultural tools of formation of social competence in modern Russian youth in the Russian Federation are not studied well enough. Socio-cultural tools of formation of social competence in modern Russian youth are an important condition of organizing the life of the society. In this regard socio-cultural tools of formation of social competence among today's youth as the demographic, social, political, labour and human resource is of the special importance as the factor of the social process.

Objective of the research: the consolidation of the subject matter and forms of socio-cultural tools of formation of social competence among today's youth.

Tasks:

- To determine the essence, subject matter and forms of socio-cultural tools of formation of social competence among today's youth.
- To study the regulatory and organizational-executory bases of socio-cultural tools of formation of social competence among today's youth
- To consolidate the systems and structures of the local authorities of the administrative centre of the North Caucasian Federal District – Pyatigorsk – in of socio-cultural tools of formation of social competence among today's youth.

- To get acquainted with the forms and methods of management of socio-cultural tools of formation of social competence among today's youth of Pyatigorsk Administration.

- To identify socio-cultural tools of the youth of the centre of the North Caucasian Federal District – Pyatigorsk – in the framework of the activities of non-governmental organizations.

- To develop the project on social competence of the youth.

The object of the research: socio-cultural competence among today's youth.

The subject of the research: subject-matter, forms and methods Socio-cultural tools of formation of social competence in modern Russian youth.

Results of the research: in the research all the managerial, theoretical and practical material is studied with the maximum possible comprehensiveness, is carefully analyzed and consolidated. All this allowed to formulate a number of conclusions, which develop the existing theoretical knowledge about managing the process of socio-cultural tools of formation of social competence among today's youth, and also the knowledge about the role and place of socio-cultural tools of formation of social competence among today's youth at the current stage.

Recommendations:

- to involve the youth in the law-making process and in determining the major directions of the youth policy;

- to develop and approve of the comprehensive and directed youth programmes;

- to consider the problems of the youth when devising the forecasts and plans of the economic and socio-cultural development of the territories;

- to assist by different means in developing the international youth relationships.