

Abstract

Graduation Level of Proficiency Paper

(Bachelor's degree)

1. Year 2020

2. Title: « THE ROLE OF HUMOR IN I. A. GONCHAROV'S NOVEL «ORDINARY STORY » »

3. Author: Komarova Alisa Vladimirovna

4. Academic advisor : PhD N.A. Orlova.

5. Specialization : 44.03.01 – Pedagogic education (Philological education)

6. Bachelor's degree

7. Institute of Translatology and Multilanguage Studie

8. Chair of Language Arts and Pedagogic Technologies of Philological Education

Topical Importance : a keen interest in the work of I. A. Goncharov. In Russian literary studies, the manifestation of humor and the comic in the works of Ivan Alexandrovich is insufficiently studied, especially in his famous novel "Ordinary story".

Objective: to substantiate the theoretical significance in the definition of comic as a whole, in the identification of the comic beginning in the works of Ivan Goncharov, to develop a methodical model of the study of works in the work of I.A. Goncharov and experimentally to test its effectiveness.

Goals of the study:

- 1)Revealing the specifics of the comic in the literature;
- 2)Analysis of the essence and history of the comic as a category in philosophy and in fiction;
- 3)Highlighting the origins, types, genres and forms of comic;
- 4)Analyze comic techniques in the works of I.A. Goncharov;

5) Pilot the effectiveness of the proposed system of work to study literary work in the context of the writer's work in high school.

The theoretical and practical significance: the results of the research radically complement and enrich the knowledge and information about the means and techniques used in the work of one of the greatest romantic writers in Russia, also complement scientific research on the varieties of comic types that are present in the comic creative world of I.A. Goncharov, as well as give a clear idea of what role they play in the humorous works of the author himself.

Diploma work has practical significance for students-philologists, teachers of the Russian language of general education schools, gymnasiums and lyceums, presenting opportunities to use this study in literature lessons.

The results of the study: The concept of "humor" is part of the price of a comic paradigm. It has always been of great interest to scientists of all generations. With the help of humor and comic effects Ivan Alexandrovich shows those differences, the conflict of views between nephew, dreaming of love and service to the homeland, and uncle, for whom there are only material benefits. The dialogue clash that occurs in the novel is more often part of the price of a comic paradigm. It has always been of great interest to scientists of all generations.

Recommendations: introducing the results of our research into the practice of teaching literature in middle and high school.