

Abstract
Graduation Level of Proficiency Paper
(Bachelor's degree)

Title: The menasive speech act in the Spanish political communication

Author: A. M. Amirokova Research Supervisor: N.V. Gurova Research

Initiator: S. N. Bezus

Topical importance: The research is dedicated to the actual problems which deal with the increasing role of politics in public life and its consequences. The topic of this work can be matched with the most problematic areas in the study of contemporary Spanish language that include the scientific comprehension of the phenomenon of verbal aggression and violence as well as a comprehensive analysis of the specifics of menasive speech acts (MSA).

Goals: to identify the communicative structure of the menasive speech act and the specificity of functioning of language means of manifestation of the MSA in political discourse, as well as detection of lexical and syntactic methods to create the effect in MSA of Spanish political discourse.

Tasks: to analyze the mechanisms of language implementation of MSA in the Spanish political communication; to determine the lexical and syntactic means of expression of MSA.

Theoretical value and practical applicability: the research is of great value for further scientific investigations in the fields of the linguistics, semantics and pragmatics. It can be useful creating lectures on the linguistics, culture linguistics, the theory and the practice of the translation, learning and teaching the Spanish.

Results: the research gives a deep integrated analysis of the menace in the Spanish political communication.

Implementation advice: this research outlines further perspectives of the comparative investigations in different languages and in the field of the different aspects of the menace in the Spanish political communication.